

Double Major Courses (at least 117 credits)

4. Integrated Courses (9 credits)

LCC111	Language for Cross Cultural Communication	3(2-2-5)
LCC112	Cultural Contemporary	3(3-0-6)
LCC261	Comparative Language Analysis	3(3-0-6)

Course Description

4. Integrated Courses

LCC111 Language for Cross Cultural Communication 3(2-2-5)

The role of English language as a medium of communication with people of different languages and cultures; relationship between languages and cultures; knowledge and understanding of foreign cultures; developing conversational skills and building positive attitudes toward the English communication with people from foreign cultures

LCC112 Cultural Contemporary 3(3-0-6)

Theories and key concepts of Western and Eastern cultures; analyses of cultures and languages, economic, social and political conditions, and international relations which affect ways of life and ethnic identity of people in the West and the East

LCC261 Comparative Language Analysis 3(3-0-6)

Comparative language analysis between English and French, English and German, English and Vietnamese, and English and Khmer in the similar contexts and situations; analyses of factors affecting the differences between two languages